Pastor at several Baptist churches in New York, New Jersey, and Philadelphia, Robert Lowry was an important compiler of hymns and composer of Sunday-school songs. Active in the second part of the 19th century, Lowry, a prominent figure in the nascent gospel hymn genre, composed many familiar tunes, including “I Need Thee Every Hour,” and “Shall We Gather by the River?” This hymn was included in Lowry’s 1869 collection Bright Jewels for the Sunday School.
